Subject(s): Zhang Shengbin, Director of Hepatobiliary Surgery Center, Vice President of Bao Gang Hospital, the Third Affiliated Hospital, Inner Mongolia Medical University

Translation

Zhang Shengbin: Hello?

Investigator: Hello, Doctor Zhang, is this a good time for you to talk now?

Zhang Shengbin: Yes.

Investigator: Good.

Zhang Shengbin: You were that patient, right?

Investigator: Yes, yes. That was me.

Zhang Shengbin: How come it shows this number?

Investigator: I'm in Zhejiang and calling you via the internet. Because my company is in Zhejiang, but my husband's company is in Baotou. However, he's got something wrong with his business. In other words, he needs to have a liver transplant, very urgently, the sooner the better.

Zhang Shengbin: Okay, okay.

Investigator: My classmate told me that only the Third Affiliated Hospital of Inner Mongolia Medical University, also called Bao Gang Hospital, can do the organ transplants. As I searched online, I found that your hospital does the best job, you doctors do a great job, and are qualified. But here's my question for you: how soon you can do it for him in the fastest case? My husband is blood type A.

Zhang shengbin: What's his blood type?

Investigator: Type A.

Zhang Shengbin: Type A?

Investigator: Yes.

Zhang Shengbin: What's his disease?

Investigator: Liver tumor.

Zhang Shengbin: Liver cancer?

Investigator: Yes, yes, yes, it's a tumor. His doctor said there is still hope if he could get it done quickly. If it gets delayed, there'll be no hope.

Zhang Shengbin: Where is the patient now?

Investigator: He is now in the Baotou Center Hospital.

Zhang Shengbin: Who is the patient? Male or female?

Investigator: The patient is my husband, my husband. I am his wife.

Zhang Shengbin: Oh, how old is he?

Investigator: 53

Zhang Shengbin: 53 years old. It would be okay whether or not to have a surgical removal. How about this: you let the patient contact me first, and bring his files to me. I'll then take a look at them to assess his condition, and go from there, okay?

Investigator: I need first bring his files to you for your review.

Zhang Shengbin: Yes.

Investigator: So, in general, how long would be the wait time, according to your experiences? Based on your experience, can it be done in a week, in the fastest case?

Zhang Shengbin: Sometimes that happens, if there's an organ source that suddenly shows up in these few days! If not, it could be ten days to half a month, one or two months, or something like that.

Investigator: Ah, I see.

Zhang Shengbin: Yes.

Investigator: Ah, that means, it would just take a short while to acquire one in a fast case, but would take one or two months in a slow case.

Zhang Shengbin: Yes, yes, yes.

Investigator: Need one or two months, right?

Zhang Shengbin: Hum, right.

Investigator: Okay. Anyway, it's gotta be you, because my classmate told me that you can do more cases with better quality. Generally speaking, your skills are absolutely not a problem.

Zhang Shengbin: Only our hospital can do it in the entire Inner Mongolia. Other hospitals can't do it.

Investigator: Oh, so it can only be done here at your hospital.

Zhang Shengbin: Yes, yes. In the entire region of Inner Mongolia, it can only be done here at this hospital.

Investigator: Oh, in the entire Inner Mongolia, it can only be done here at your hospital, right?

Zhang Shengbin: Right.

Investigator: So, as for your experience, you have done it for many years, right? Your experience is not an issue, right?

Zhang Shengbin: We got it started in 2004.

Zhang Shengbin: More than a dozen years.

Investigator: More than a dozen years?

Zhang Shengbin: Yeah.

Investigator: When is it convenient to talk to you? When are you available?

Zhang Shengbin: Please call me in the afternoon, around 3pm.

Investigator: To call in the afternoon, it won't be from this number for sure. I may let one of my relatives call you then, and they're over there, is that okay?

Zhang Shengbin: Okay, okay.

Investigator: Should we go to the hospital, the clinic, or the inpatient service to find you?

Zhang Shengbin: Please call me again when you arrive at the hospital, okay?

Investigator: Just make a phone call to contact you then, right?

Zhang Shengbin: Right, right, right.

Investigator: So, in that case, please do us a favor, Doctor Zhang. Please make the efforts to have it happen as fast as possible.

Zhang Shengbin: Okay, okay.

Investigator: Please.

Zhang Shengbin: Okay.

Investigator: Goodbye.
